We, the project team, acknowledge that this project does not have an external industry stakeholder. As instructed by the course professor, we are submitting this document to indicate that the team will act collectively as the stakeholder for the purpose of:

- Approving user stories and completed features,
- Participating in scheduled iteration review meetings,
- Providing project direction and decision-making where needed,
- Ensuring that project progress continues throughout the full duration of the term (September through April).

We understand that:

- Copyright and intellectual property (IP) arrangements are to be mutually agreed upon within the team.
- The project code and documentation will be stored in a private GitHub repository.
- NDAs are not required for this project, as there is no external stakeholder.

We also acknowledge that the project will include the following liability and warranty disclaimer in any license or software distribution:
